

No judgement

The key to good ideas is many ideas! If everyone worries about other's opinions, they will constrain themselves and very few ideas will occur. So don't discuss or refine the ideas while they are presented.